The Company recognises that slavery and human trafficking remains a hidden blight on our global society. The Company aim is to identify our responsibility by altering staff to the risks in our business and in our wider supply chain.

The Company will achieve these aims by our initiative to identify and mitigate risk in the following ways (but not limited to):

- Investigating and vetting our supply chains policies, contracts, contractors etc.
- Continually auditing and reviewing our practices – checking all employees are paid at least the minimum wage and have the right to work.
- By encouraging the reporting of any concerns and protecting whistle blowers.
- By having Zero tolerance to slavery and human trafficking.

The Company will ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern-day slavery and human trafficking with its own business and its supply chains by providing training to the relevant members of staff as well as briefing all Directors on the subject.

This policy statement will be reviewed annually and made available to staff, stakeholders, and other interested parties.
